

Minnesota Ignition Interlock Device Program Evaluation

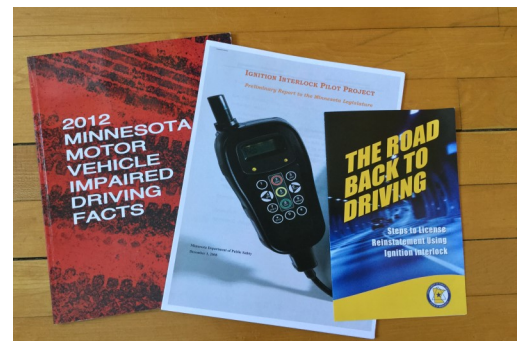

Client: Office of Traffic Safety, Department of Public Safety
Services: Program Evaluation, Data Collection and Research

Greenway is leading the evaluation of the effectiveness of Minnesota's IID program in preventing impaired driving and reducing DWI re-offenses. Tasks included:

- Project management
- Develop evaluation plan
- Develop survey forms
- Survey 20,000+ participants
- Data entry and quality control
- Analysis and reporting

Greenway is providing specialist transportation planning, data collection and project management input to DPS's effort to evaluate the effectiveness of Minnesota's Ignition Interlock Device Program. Greenway developed the evaluation plan together with behavioral scientists, traffic safety and research experts from Traffic Injury Research Foundation-USA and VHB Inc. We are collating and analyzing program participant information from drivers' records, device vendors and participant surveys to determine the program's effectiveness in reducing the number of driving while impaired (DWI) incidents. We are comparing records for 20,000+ current and past program participants with 20,000+ non-participants.
